SWEET MUSIC

Here are two examples of the sweetest music heard regularly in this store:

One man who purchased an Ivers & Pond Grand Piano for his wife's birthday this week remarked, "I know, from the reputation of this store, it will not benefit me to look at any other pianos, for I am sure of a square deal here."

A lady, who arranged for the delivery of one of our $685.00 Grand Pianos, said, "I have looked all over Chicago, and find your methods of selling as well as your prices much better than I found in any other store."

Such "SWEET MUSIC" is the result of 17 years of honest piano dealing where all buyers are assured protection.

Getting Rich Quick Mania

The easiest victim to the swindler is the fellow who not satisfied with reasonable wage or profits tries to accumulate a fortune in a minute. The history of the ages show that one must labor and toil to gather permanent riches, and the few exceptions simply prove the truth of the rule. There was but one Ford, and one Edison, also but one Rockefeller in the past century, yet a million have tried to imitate them in realizing immense fortunes in a short time. Even in "the golden days of '49" where fortunes were dreams, comparatively few struck it rich, while countless thousands toiled on, and finally died poor men, disappointed and unhappy in their search for the golden fleece. Every day and almost every hour of the day one is offered wonderful chances in "sure things" investments, from the guessing contest of oil stocks, to the supposed to be never failing real estate. Stock companies who offer extraordinary inducements are a great lure, but experience will prove that the investment which promises ordinary returns is the one that really pays and pays regularly. Speculation is gambling pure and simple, and unless you are in that business, you have small show with the professional, just as you have in guessing which shell the little pea is under in the thimble rigging game of the street faker. Conservative real estate investment is always safe, and sometimes yields very large returns, but one has but to remember how many held the most promising real estate until all hope of profit is eaten up by special assessments and taxes. A property has to double its value in seven years here in Chicago to even hold its own, so that much of the boasted profits and increases are myths. If a man make a dollar on a speculation he will shout it from the house tops, but the fellow that loses hasn't a word to say, hence the success of speculation is better advertised and exaggerated beyond reason. A good stead, reasonable salary is better than an uncertain "job," so also is a steady business with a moderate profit, than any fly by night scheme, no matter how well it may be advertised.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Stultz were in Elgin, Ill., last Sunday.

Mrs. E. H. Jones returned to Clearwater, Mich., having spent a delightful vacation with Mrs. Emma Blinn at her home, 6111 Normal blvd.

Miss Mary McDowell will be the guest and speaker Sunday evening, March 16 at the First Presbyterian church at 7:30. Miss Dorothy Greathouse, soprano, will be the soloist. Everybody welcome.

The Englewood Preachers' club will have their monthly luncheon at the Tudor Tuesday noon, March 18, at 12:30 and will have as their guests 75 to 100 other preachers of the south side. The speakers will be Ex-Gov. Deneen and South Park Commissioner John Bain and Roy O. West.

The Dickenson chapter of the O. E. S. held their annual theater party at the LaSalle last Monday evening, March 10. The house was packed with guests and the presentation of Aaron Hoffman's farce comedy, "Give and Take," could not be excelled. Louis Mann and George Sidney were at their best, in fact "co-operation" was the word from start to finish. The proceeds of the evening will be used to relieve the needs of the unfortunate.

Blessings of a Rainy Day

Isn't it just fine to stand at the window and watch the rain pour down, down, upon the parched earth, and the heat cracked lawn? Even the cement sidewalks seem to smile under the cooling bath, and all nature welcomes the refreshing shower. You may be a little dumpy because some out door engagement must be cancelled, but now you will have a chance to finish that long waiting task that someway has been unfinished. What a grand day for answering letters too, and as you read old ones to reinform yourself of their contents it is experiencing again the pleasure of receiving them. It is a vacation, not sought of course, but nevertheless one in which you are compelled to forego some of the usual occupations, and take up others that are equally important and pleasurable, and in a short time in forgetfulness of the original intentions for the day, one finds as much if not more enjoyment than if the day would have been fair and fine. Nature evidently intended the rainy day as a sort of relaxation for man and beast, and in its gentle downpour compels him to desist and recuperate. In the glorious springtime the person who does not enjoy the gentle rain, cannot enjoy the sunshine, as it takes both to clothe our good old world in its coat of verdure green, and makes things grow. If it is depressing to the unthinking just "wait 'till the clouds roll by," and then see how the outside world is refreshed and restored by it. This is written in a sunkissed land where they have had no rain for nearly four months, only warm sunshine and where even to us tourists old Sol had become tiresome, and we are among the most enthusiastic worshippers of the greatly needed rainy day, and the movement to employ an artificial rain-maker is now happily abandoned, and we all beam and smile with a sort of welcome to the soft fall of nature's tear drops with gratitude to "He who doeth all things well."

Mrs. Sharon returned home last week having enjoyed a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Elmer Hole of 6704 Stewart ave.

Mr. Harold Knapp of 7220 Lowe ave. returned to his home Tuesday following a successful operation at the Englewood hospital.

Miss June Pauley of 5627 Indiana ave. is convalescing at the Wesley hospital and can receive calls from her friends.

Class 43 of the Englewood Christian church will have their annual banquet at the church Thursday evening, March 20.

The South Side Catholic Woman's club gave a card party on Thursday afternoon, March 13 at the club rooms, 6323 Harvard ave.

The Woman's Union society of the Englewood Baptist church are arranging a very attractive program for Friday, March 21. Luncheon will be served at 12:30.

Miss Helen Peterson, 71st st. and Lafayette ave., was one of the winners of a radio in the wet and dry contest at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Miss Ruth Potts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Potts and Mr. Arthur Lynn were married at the home of the bride, 240 60th pl., Saturday evening, March 1, 1924.

Mrs. William A. White of 6435 Yale ave. was buried from Lane's parlors Saturday, March 8. Rev. C. C. Kindred conducted the services. Mrs. White leaves a son and daughter and husband to mourn her loss.

The convention of the Nazarene preachers is in progress at the First Nazarene church, 61th and Eggleston ave. Rev. E. P. Ellyson of Kansas City, Mo., will preach three times on Sunday, March 17 at 10:30, 3 p. m., and at 7:30. Rev. F. M. Messinger will lecture every afternoon at 4 o'clock on the book of Revelation. The public is invited to all the sessions which open at 9 o'clock.

To Save Is to Have

Suppose you save 25 cents a day. That does not mean much to the average man. You won't miss it.

Yet that 25 cents a day in ten years grows to nearly a thousand dollars. And the interest, which we pay you for saving your money, brings the total to well over eleven hundred dollars.

Think of what you can do with this.

Realize Your Dreams

Just a few years of small but steady savings will bring you many of the things you are longing for. Perhaps you want a car. Perhaps you want to buy the farm next to you. Perhaps you want to start a son in business, or to go traveling, or to educate yourself or your children.

Saving will do all these. And best of all, you will have formed the saving habit and will never be one of the nine men out of every ten who pass their last years penniless—in the poorhouse or dependent on others.

TELEPHONE GROWTH IN ILLINOIS FOR 1923 BREAKS ALL RECORDS

By W. R. ABBOTT
President, Illinois Bell Telephone Company

A net gain of 73,280 telephone stations in 1923 in the territory served by it is the record of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company.

All previous records for telephone station growth were broken in the new mark set by the company. The 1923 figure was 13.3 per cent greater than the highest previous year.

To obtain this new high mark the company made a total of 197,361 telephone installations, and discontinued a total of 124,081 telephones.

The station gain in Chicago alone was 51,951. At the end of the year the number of telephones in Chicago was 692,645.

Big Program for This Year

During 1923 the company spent for extensions to its plant approximately $18,000,000. For 1924, for similar work, the company will spend approximately $19,500,000.

The additions are necessary to meet the demands of the public, and also to take care of added use of the telephone. In 1922 the daily average number of calls handled by the company was 4,151,931. This was increased to a daily average of 4,635,161 in 1923.

With the added telephone stations must be provided additional plant. Every new telephone must have facilities for connection with every other telephone.

During the war the demands of the government for both material and manufactured goods used in the electrical industries was greater than for almost any other class of commodities and this demand took precedence over any other needs. The result was that for some time after the close of the war there was a shortage of equipment needed by telephone companies. This shortage and the rapid growth of Chicago and many other places in the state has made it difficult for us to keep up with the demand for extension of our service. But we are making great efforts to meet this demand, as evidenced by our record of growth for 1923.

The year has been an active one in every department of our business. The large growth as outlined above has called for the most active work on the part of the Engineering and Construction Departments and the increase in the number of our telephones has naturally brought increases in the Traffic, Accounting and Commercial work. The number of employees in telephone work in Illinois is steadily increasing. The Illinois Bell now has on its pay rolls more than 24,000 persons.

Although the station growth and the additional number of calls were large, our service, both local and long distance, has been good throughout the year.

First Machine Switching Exchanges

In June and August we placed in service in Chicago the first machine switching centers—Central and State, serving about 23,000 telephones in the downtown district of Chicago. The operation of these exchanges has been very satisfactory and the subscribers are pleased with the service.

During the year we offered and sold common stock of our company of a par value of $10,000,000, also an issue of $50,000,000 first and refunding mortgage 6 per cent bonds. From the proceeds of this sale we retired the first mortgage bonds of the Chicago Telephone Company due December 1. The remainder of the funds will be used in our construction program.

On March 11, a heavy storm did considerable damage to our property in the Chicago Suburban and Illinois Divisions. This damage was repaired and service restored. This storm furnished a very valuable object lesson of the value

Ogden Park Branch of the Chicago Public Library

The new adult books at the Ogden Park library are not many, but among them are some from the best authors, and some of the more popular books.

Frank Swinnerton's "Young Felix" has been much talked about in reading circles and by the Reviewers. We have our first glimpse of Felix Hunter at the age of two years. . . . The life of Felix was one long series of disasters—and one long happiness. He touched nothing that he did not in the end bring about his ears. A most perceptive wit once suddenly asked "How is Felix? Still triumphing from failure to failure?" The Hunter family, of which Felix was the youngest member, had almost every kind of misfortune to contend with—poverty, unemployment, illness, sometimes even starvation, but Ma Hunter was invincible and it was in the family creed never to complain. So insensible was Felix to misfortune that this story of the first thirty years of his life, though a chronicle of failure, has an air of triumph about it, and certainly something of romance. It was inevitable that his marriage should prove a mistake and the book leaves him beginning again with a hope of happiness as strong as the sense of past failure.

"The Midlander," by Booth Tarkington, is characteristic of the author. Against a typical thriving midwest-town background a mild narrative flows smoothly round Dan Oliphant, his vain and foolish wife, a spoiled New Yorker, Martha, his life-long friend, and Harlan, his "superior" brother.

Mrs. Fannie Ferber Fox, sister of Edna Ferber, has written a practical, well-organized cook book in which the needs of the housekeeper of moderate means are kept in constant mind and in which party menus are given as well as more substantial everyday fare. An interesting feature is the attention given to Jewish cookery. The foreword is by Edna Ferber.

"From pinafores to politics" is the title of Mrs. J. Borden Harriman's autobiography, which is a lively record of a life packed with social and historic contacts of interest. Not content with the opportunities afforded by her high social position in New York, Mrs. Harriman entered heartily into club work, politics and war activities and in so doing became associated with the celebrities of America and Europe.

"New Hampshire" is a long poem which has been likened to a journey across country with a companion who philosophises and indulges in reminiscences in a shrewd and humorous manner. There are shorter pieces in this book of Robert Frost, many of them having a lovely lyric quality.

Appel Buys Burkhard Market

The Burkhard and Sons meat market, 63rd st. and Harvard ave., was sold to A. Appel of the north side, a business of high standing among the meat people of Chicago. The Burkhards opened this store about eight or nine months ago and have been doing a splendid business in the meat line, but the selling of this store to Mr. Appel was to afford them more time for their bakery business since they have expanded further in the wholesaling of bakery goods. They recently purchased a beautiful delivery truck and are now ready to serve the people of this community in a better and bigger way.

Legion Sponsors Boy Scout Troop

Englewood Post No. 61, the American Legion, at the regular monthly meeting, which was held at the Legion hall in the Englewood Business College building last Friday night, decided to become the financial sponsors of a troop of Boy Scouts in the Southwest Scout district.

This will mean that the legion post will see that one troop of Scouts are cared for financially in the future and will be the Big Brothers of this particular troop. The post believes that the welfare of the boys in the Southwest district rests with the many organizations of a civic, business and fraternal nature and that if the various organizations will but sponsor one troop each in the future, there will never be any need for a financial drive to raise the finances necessary to adequately care for the expense of giving the boys in this community a fair chance to enjoy the wonderful training in man-building that the Boy Scouts of America are offering to the youth of Englewood and all of the Southwest part of Chicago.

Englewood Post No. 61 of the American Legion has started the ball rolling and it remains to be seen how many more clubs and organizations get into the swim and get solidly behind the boys.

Otis Skinner in "Sancho Panza"

Of unusual interest to those who care for the better things of the stage is the announcement that Otis Skinner will appear at Powers theater, Chicago, in Melchoir Lengyel's satirical comedy, "Sancho Panza," adapted from Miguel de Cervantes' famous story, "Don Quixote de la Mancha." Mr. Skinner will come to the Powers theater on Monday, March 10, direct from the Hudson theater, New York, for a limited engagement only. The entire supporting cast that shared with him the honors of the New York engagement, will appear in Chicago.

"Sancho Panza" is an elaborate production, rich in color and movement, with singing and dancing and effective groupings of more than fifty players. It has been staged by Richard Boleslawsky of the Moscow Art theater. The special music has been composed by Hugo Felix, well known for his "Pom-Pom," "Lassie," and "Marjolaine." The dances have been arranged by Bert French, of the New York "Music Box Revue," and the entire production costumed by James Reynolds, costume designer for the Ziegfeld "Follies."

Russell Janney, producer of "Sancho Panza," has endeavored to maintain the spirit of Cervantes' "Don Quixote," so that those who are familiar with the famous Don and his encounter with the windmills may not be disappointed in the transferring of the atmosphere from the book to the stage. Even Sacho Panza's famous donkey, "Dapple," has not been overlooked. In fact he shares honors with Mr. Skinner.

During the "Sancho Panza" engagement at the Powers theater there will be matinees Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The Rise of Mary Anne at Englewood High

"The Rise of Mary Anne," the semi-annual production of the Dramatic department of Englewood high school, promises to be the most successful play the school has ever staged.

Roselle Moss and David Goldfine are enacting the leading roles. Both are talented and experienced in dramatic work, and—as are many other members of the cast—are in the graduating class. So they are doing their best to "put over big" their last high school play.

Miss Margaret E. Froning has charge of the coaching. She is the head of the Dramatic department, and has the reputation of making a success of every play she has ever coached. The diligen work of the cast, together with Miss Froning's expert directing, make prospects bright.

The ticket sales have been progressing rapidly, and indicate, according to Herbert S. Wolfe, general manager, a full house for each of the three performances, which are to be given on March 12 (matinee), 13, and 14.

Seeing Santa Catalina Island

One of the Most Beautiful Spots On Earth; Answers Some of Many Questions Asked by Chicagoans

To visit California without going to Santa Catalina Island, the "Magic Isle of the Pacific" would be worse than visiting Chicago without seeing the lake front. It lies just twenty-five miles off the coast, and is reached from Wilmington or Los Angeles harbor in three hours' easy sail over the smoothest sea I have ever seen, and the bluest waters, transparent to depths of fifty feet. Crossing San Pedro channel through Los Angeles harbor we pass the entire length of the U. S. Naval Training station, and all sorts of vessels dip their colors to the Stars and Stripes. Among many foreign ships we noticed three Chinese high decked vessels that the moving picture people are utilizing for coming features. Mammoth dredges and sand pumps are in constant motion making the new harbor, and miles of lumber laden ships from as far north as Alaska are unloading their cargoes, and barges filled with stone are dumping their loads in making strong piers and slips along this immense waterway. As we sail to the west a million and four sea gulls follow us, when counting them I noticed two were left behind, hence there were not a million and six, also large flocks of cormorants, and some stately pelicans. It is sport to throw crackers high in the air and watch the gulls catch them on the fly. We pass numbers of ladened vessels coming in and many are from Panama as well as from the northern shores all centering for the busy district about Los Angeles.

In a short time the towering mountains of Catalina may be seen, and soon the wooded canyons and beautiful inlets break on our view, and we agree that it deserves the title of the "Magic Isle of the Pacific" as it sums up all the scenic glories of golden California. Enveloped in the soft summerlike air set in the beautiful turquoise sea, it is a vision of loveliness never to be forgotten.

Santa Catalina Island was first discovered by Don Juan Rodiquez Cabrillo in 1542 and was thickly inhabited by Indians whose ancient villages may be easily traced by the ruins of their habitations, pottery, arrow heads and axes. The wise Spanish navigator was friendly to the Indians and profited by their kindness securing everything he wanted while he made repairs on his fleet of small vessels. He took back with him to Spain rich treasures in gold and semi-precious stones as well as seeds of the wonderful vegetation native to the island. Its region of high mountains, circling bays, lofty cliffs and canyons, smooth beaches and calm, transparent water, made it the ideal of romance and in the early days it was frequented by adventurers, free booters, pirates who pillaged the rich galleons from the Philippines and East Indies. It is twenty-two miles in length and varies in width from less than a quarter of a mile at "The Isthmus" to seven miles at the widest point. The only real settlement is Avalon, which is the center of life and activity and has a beautiful harbor where we observed many beautiful yachts and vessels of pleasure seekers like ourselves, but from the costly and expensive style in which they traveled I surmise that few of them are newspaper men. This is the ideal place for fishermen and we had to anchor Ed. Frantz to keep him from catching them all, and as it is he pulled out specimens of albacore, tuna, yellow fin, leaping tuna white sea bass and other varieties, but I confined my love of fishing to eating the product of Ed's wary line. The pretty little city of Avalon is situated on the landward side, well protected from ocean winds by the island mountain range, and just at the entrance to the harbor is Sugar Loaf Rock standing guard with a brilliant light and resounding fog horns. One of the greatest attractions is the sub-marine gardens and glass bottomed boats are provided with black coated interiors, the better to see the wonders of the deep, and one may see with great clearness the blue, green, yellow and purple fishes playing through the lovely forms of sea vegetation and it is a wonderful sight. Right off these gardens is Seal Rock where at any time one will see hundreds of seals basking in the sunshine or cavorting around in the coves of the island. Here also will be found the abalone shells, and a diver accompanies most of the boats to bring them to the top for the visitors. We sailed around the island and spent an hour at the Isthmus where a summer colony have built a tent city on the site of an old Indian village. Here also is the old home of the Bannings who owned the island for many years and later sold it to William Wrigley of Chicago (of course) who is doing much to develop the pretty place. In the west bay of the Isthmus lies the old Chinese pirate craft "Ning Po" and all about is the shores one often sees in the movies for the South Sea Islands, and other semi tropical scenes. All along the rugged shore are caves and many have a romantic story of entombed Indians and pirate prisons as well as latter day smugglers and free booters. The island was a great feeding place for goats but the only one I saw was painted on the masthead of the little boat.

There are numerous hotels. The best and largest, under Mr. Wrigley's ownership, is the St. Catherine, and they do set a fine table and have all outside rooms at remarkably reasonable rates. There were twenty-five members of the Cubs baseball club here limbering up and we took pleasure in watching the husky fellows exercising, and always on the run to and from the grounds, taking the kinks out of their winter bred limbs.

Mr. Wrigley paid five million dollars for the entire island and to a rich man it is worth it, as development will increase its value not only as a pleasure resort but also for utilities. The fishing grounds are rich, the granite walled cliffs and mountains are easily mined and find ready market. The ground is fertile and will raise all kinds of fruits and vegetables, while water is plentiful coming from natural springs and drilled wells in the mountains.

On the highest mountain top Mr. Wrigley has built a million dollar home that is a veritable palace. As we did not have our "soup and fish" coat with us, and besides lacked an invitation, we did not visit "Bill" in his home.

We were accompanied on this trip by Mrs. Will Davis and daughter June, formerly of Chicago, Dr Charles Leake of Kenwood and Dr. Walter Leake of Lockport, New York, and of course, by our vade mecums, Mr. and Mrs. Frantz, and no party ever visited the island that enjoyed it more.

It is much of a concession when a true Chicagoan will acknowledge that any other city compares in any way favorable to his old home town, but as honesty is also a Chicago attribute, it behooves me to say right here that Los Angeles is way ahead of us in many improvements and city privileges. One misses the grimy Chicago atmosphere most, and the dirty streets, although the traffic is fully as heavy as in most parts of our home city. There is less noise, the streets are paved flush and the brain wracking chug in crossing tracks is not in evidence. Even the teamsters do not consider it necessary to shout and holler or sound their rasping sirens at every corner, and I have yet to hear an officer admonish a driver in a loud tone. Of course Los Angeles is on dress parade and doing her best to entertain more people from all parts of the world, than she has population, but then it is good work and might be emulated by larger cities.

I was asked to give some idea of the chances for employment in California and will say they are good. Tradesmen of course have the lead and are in great demand especially in the building trades. Laborers are also in demand and the white collar element from clerks and bookkeepers to superintendents, especially if experienced, are sought for, and paid good wages. Rents are as high as in Chicago, and most apartments and even houses are rented furnished. The cost of groceries and meats is about the same, while fruits and vegetables are about half that paid in the East. Clothing and dry goods are about the same, while furniture is higher as also are jewelry and the luxuries. Gasoline sells for from ten to twelve cents a gallon, in addition to the two cents a gallon state tax. Street car fare is five cents and the service good. Bus service is also good and lines are run to all of the suburbs and parks. Cafeterias are brought to perfection and the prices reasonable, in fact, many roomers board at the cafeterias cheaper than they could cook their own meals. The water comes from a lake in the mountains and is good and cheap.

Answering a number of inquiries sent me by Englewood people, will say: I do not feel able to counsel anyone on investments here. There is all kinds of money, and much building and exploiting of new additions, so that all of the southern part of the state is platted into subdivisions and lots, and even the mountains are being terraced for "Hill-side estates" costing anywhere from $20,000 to $100,000 and many millionaires are building wonderful places in the hills. Thousands of court apartments, wherein a dozen or more small apartments are built, and rented furnished mostly, are being built and the question arises are they not overbuilding? It occurs to me that most of the city is transient, that is, do not seem permanently located. There are 50,000 people connected in one way or another with the movie business, and like all "show people" they are mostly at home wherever they hang up their hats, and ready to move at a moment's notice. Tourists are here by the thousands and some of them locate permanently, captivated by the truly wonderful climate. Property is very high even way out in the suburbs. Lots sell for from $1,000 to $5,000, according to location, and the cost of building, even the light structures they use here is high. The best houses are built of veneered brick with a 2 by 4 shell that no Chicago inspector would pass. They need no heat, and having little rain they save much. Most of them are plaster and stucco on very light frames, and all sorts of ornaments and Spanish and Moorish frills are added that would give a regular architect delerium tremens. Then they paint or stain them all the vivid colors and have rainbow awnings, with spear supports like the Arab tents, that make them odd, but attractive. They do not have to wait years for foliage or trees as a house becomes vine covered in six months, and large palms and foliage trees grow up in a few years. The city is spending a great deal of money in cutting streets through the mountains, etc., and it will be some taxpaying time in a few years to make up for this orgy of extravagance, but every resident here is sure that it will always be growing and on the boom. They will need more manufacturing and farming of all kinds to support the city if the tourists should tire of coming here.

Hold Six Day Moose Bazaar Next Week

With the expectation of increasing their building fund to the point where it will be possible to commence construction of their own home, Englewood Lodge No. 221, Loyal Order of Moose, with headquarters at 6044 Halsted st., will hold a leap year frolic and bazaar at the South Side Masonic temple, 64th and Green sts., for six nights from March 17 to 22 inclusive, there will be six big nights of fun and frolic that none of us will ever forget. We have it, Brother, and you will see it and besides a multitude of other attractions.

Never before has Englewood lodge attempted anything so stupendous; never before have we provided for such a royal week of entertainment and good times for our members, their families and their friends.

There will be, each of the six nights of the bazaar, vaudeville and dancing and many other attractions, etc. Matz's orchestra will furnish music.

Business Men Pledge Help During "Zero Hour" in Scout Drive

Pledges from the business men present for active participation in the Boy Scout drive featured the meeting of the Englewood Business Men's association last Thursday. James Fry, a Scout from Troop 630, which meets at the Englewood M. E. church, entered and, after being recognized by the chairman of the day, Harry M. Englestein, read a communication from the Scouts, asking the help of the association.

A rising pledge of co-operation was taken and then James, together with Samuel Fritz, of Troop 619 of Thoburn church, distributed posters for the business men to use in their windows and collected the signatures of those who promised to actively aid during the "zero hour" on March 29.

"I want to be among the men who are going to put this thing over," said Thomas Whitehead. "Our boys want adventure. It is natural that they should and they should have it. It is up to us to give it to them, and not let them receive any more charity from the Yards district. We want 2,500 men to help out in this good cause for one hour, that we may put Englewood on the map."

Mrs. Laura Wilcox Williams, 334 W. 61st st., was present and presented the plans the garden committee of the Englewood Woman's club is making for a "Help make Englewood a more attractive place to live" campaign during the spring and summer months. The committee will endeavor to encourage local residents to plant gardens and have flower boxes. What the Chicago Real Estate Board Means to the Broker

"There are more deals negotiated in the Chicago Real Estate Board lunch rooms between members than in any four brokers' offices in Chicago. On coming up the stairs to the lunch room the other day I made an $89,000.00 deal with a fellow realtor."—Major Frederick J. Philips, Prominent Chicago Realtor.

"When a broker brings in an application for a loan to our office we invariably inquire as to whether he is a member of the Chicago Real Estate Board, and if he is I feel that I can depend upon any statement made regarding the loan." —Earle G. Krumrine, President Chicago Mortgage Bankers Association.

A member of The Chicago Real Estate Board becomes one of 1,500 real estate men in Chicago who are entitled to the distinction of the use of the word REALTOR in their business.

A Realtor automatically becomes a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, a body consisting of over 500 real estate boards in various cities in America with a membership of 20,000 active Realtors whose Code of Ethics is one of the most stringent of any business or professional organization in the land.

A Realtor automatically becomes a member of the Illinois Association of Real Estate Boards, an organization composed of boards in 60 cities throughout Illinois which carefully watches all legislation relating to real estate. No legislation was passed in the last session of the General Assembly which was opposed by this organization, although some 150 bills were introduced affecting Real Estate, many of which would have made Real Estate so unattractive as an investment that capital would have been driven into other channels had they passed, and no Act failed to pass which received the endorsement of this organization.

A Realtor receives the "Chicago Realtor," the monthly publication of The Chicago Real Estate Board, containing a digest of legal decisions affecting real estate and all the latest and best real estate ideas for merchandising.

A Realtor who maintains no downtown office may make his appointments and negotiate his Loop deals in the Board rooms.

A Realtor at noon each day may meet with some 200 fellow Realtors at luncheon, make deals, and exchange ideas while eating the best and most inexpensive luncheon to be had in Chicago.

A Realtor has the entree to and use of the largest Real Estate Library in America, containing the legal description, names and addresses of owners of Real Estate, Records of Sales, indexed by streets, Maps, Atlases, Books, Pamphlets and Charts of practically every project of interest to the broker, including the latest available data on Zoning, Public Improvements, Street Widenings, Transportation Systems, proposed Subways—in fact, all data of vital interest to a broker.

A Realtor may operate under the Multiple Listing System of selling Real Estate whereby he secures the co-operation of the other members in the disposal of properties listed under this system, together with the listings of other members. This system is one whereby a member of The Chicago Real Estate Board secures an exclusive listing and sends it to the Board, which in turn sends it to other members of the Board, thus giving the property owner in the sale of his property the services of a large number of brokers instead of only one. This system is now in effect in over 100 cities of the United States and Canada, where it has been uniformly successful. It is the old idea of co-operation applied to the sale of property through the medium of a Real Estate Board.

A Realtor receives, free, the Year Book, containing a digest of Landlord and Tenant law, and other items of interest, including many valuable tables, statistics, charts, etc.

A Realtor has the privilege of attending, free, the lectures on Landlord and Tenant Law in the Board rooms, to which he may bring his employees.

A Realtor has the privilege of attending the National and State Conventions, which are post-graduate courses in Real Estate, with the opportunity of meeting the Realtors from other cities, thereby broadening his point of view and enabling him to get the best merchandising ideas available from other communities. The social features connected with the State and National Conventions as well as the various meetings of the Board, including the frequent Outings and Banquets, give the Realtor an opportunity to make social acquaintances, which are invaluable to him in his business life.

A complete list of Chicago Realtors will be published shortly, but not until every deserving Real Estate Broker in the city (who measures up to its high standards) has been given an opportunity to become an Active Member of The Chicago Real Estate Board.

Suppose no one cared. Have you ever thought what the Real Estate Business would be today if no one cared? Years of caring and trying are reflected in the accomplishments of The Chicago Real Estate Board, an unselfish institution working for the interest of the Real Estate Business as a whole. Its standing in the community rises as its principles and services are adopted.

A Financial Expert For President

Are the people overlooking presidential timber for the coming nomination?

We would suggest our great financial expert, Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes of Chicago.

Shall we be adverse to a man who is big enough for the biggest job in this country—and a man who can stand the prosperity that often comes through bigness?

In short, Brigadier General Dawes is an exceptionally excellent man for the presidential nomination. He is fearless, straightforward and genuinely sincere. Are we Americans afraid of an honest-to-God man who has no fear in his heart, who dares to tell the truth, and to perform his duties in an unselfish manner?

Fair to labor and to capital, absolutely open and above board, "calm, serene and self-poised," Brigadier General Dawes is as fine presidential timber as can be found anywhere in America.

Our 11 Big Stores Are Kept Busy Supplying the Homes of People Who Demand Good Furniture

A big Chicago advertiser claims that there are enough people who desire good merchandise in the city to keep his particular store busy. We have proved that there are enough people who insist on good furniture in Chicago to keep our eleven stores busy! In fact, we are hardly able, at times, to supply the demand; and were compelled to open additional stores in 1923 in order to keep pace with our growing patronage. We carry the finest lines of furniture in the country, but refrain from tacking on the topnotch price for the sake of impressing our trade with the quality of our goods—we believe that moderate prices produce more sales—a new customer, secured by a fair deal and an honest profit, is a permanent asset to any merchant no matter what business he may be following.

SULLIVAN'S SENSE AND NONSENSE

CROSS YOUR FINGERS

I do not fear the siren
With a mass of midnight hair
With wicked drooping eyelids
And a blase worldly air;
But, Oh, I cross my fingers
And I breathe a little prayer
When I meet a blond-haired curio
With a blue-eyed baby stare!

Most things that one gets for nothing, are worth just as much.

The best way not to obtain praise is to ask for it.

An ounce of action is worth a pound of threats.

Ready money is the root of much pleasure.

The only man justified in telling his wife all he hears, is a deaf one.

It is a terrible thing to be a poor and also have a good appetite.

Some doctors may not be able to relieve you of your pain, but they can of your coin.

Funny, women will tell all of their imaginary troubles but not a peep of their real ones.

Sometimes the girl helps her bashful lover out, and sometimes it is the father's boot.

Some women regard the marriage ceremony as a license to play detective on their husbands for the rest of their lives.

A man should be measured by his every day accomplishments, not the extraordinary things he does under stress.

Funny thing, the street cars in California have smoking compartments and the women fill them before the smoking men can get seats.

It begins to look pretty serious to a sick man when his wife begins to speculate upon how she will look in deep mourning.

There is some interest in the research for the Garden of Eden, but Los Angeles people are sure if there was such a garden it sure is within their territory.

Even should some concerns grow so prosperous that they abandon the local name, they don't deny that they made their first and last dollar in good old Englewood.

Can you imagine the Tribune or the Daily News getting so big that they would abandon the name Chicago and take that of Illinois or even United States?

The Blue Island Sun-Standard must have reached California for they work under Homer's front page shibboleth. "He that tooteth not his own horn, the same shall not be tooted" and they sure do some mighty "tooting."

Editorial Staff, Englewood Times: In a letter received by me today from our esteemed Gerald Sullivan, now in California, he informs me that he is "feeling like a three-year old," and I am puzzled to know if he refers to a horse or an egg. Kiwanians to Help Scout Drive

An hour's work in securing pledges for the Boy Scout drive for funds was promised by a number of members of the Englewood Kiwanis club at their meeting Tuesday after William McDonnell, who has been appointed by Harry Mapp, chairman of the drive, had presented the necessity of raising the funds to carry on scout work.

"Money and men are the things we need to carry scout work forward in this district," said Mr. McDonnell. "There are only 1,500 Scouts in the Southwest district and there should be 5,000. The Southwest district has always fallen short in the quota set for it to raise and the Scout work here has been supported by contributions received in other districts. We are going 'over the top' on 'zero hour' Saturday, March 29, and we need your assistance."

Harry J. Mapp, chairman of the drive, was introduced as a new member of the club.

Indications are that the attendance for the week in both the Red and Blue armies will reach 100 per cent in the national attendance contest again although several members were absent. Arrangements will be made for them to attend other clubs during the week.

Dr. Frank J. Norton announced that a joint meeting would be held by the Woodlawn club Wednesday at the Trianon ballroom. The meeting will be attended by a number of south side clubs and clubs from South Chicago and Chicago Heights. J. J. Kelly will be the speaker, and entertainment will be furnished by the Duncan Sisters, principals in "Topsy and Eva."

Homer G. Sailor, general of the Blue army, had charge of the program and he presented his wife, Mrs. Eloise Sailor, and Mrs. Ruth Dennis. Mrs. Sailor gave several readings and Mrs. Dennis sang solos. Fred Sonnen, harmonica artist, was introduced by Mrs. John Charles Young, chairman of the music extension committee of the Englewood Woman's club.

New Organization to Meet In Englewood

The newly organized Chicago Commercial Secretaries council will hold its next meeting at the College cafe in the Englewood Business College building on Monday, March 24, at 7 o'clock, when a dinner will be served.

The council was entertained by the Garfield Park club last Monday evening. Several new members were added and many matters of importance to the various organizations outside the loop were discussed and disposed of.

It is the desire of the council that all community problems be pooled together in the organization so that results may be attained through concerted action. Business men in general are invited to attend Monday's meeting and see what their organization's secretaries are doing to promote the welfare of their communities.

Lewis-Champlin Parent-Teachers' Association

The regular meeting of the Lewis-Champlin Parent-Teacher association will be held in the assembly hall on Tuesday, March 18, at 2:30 o'clock. The speaker will be Miss Dora Wells, principal of the Lucy Flower Girls' Technical high school, whose address will be "If I Had a Daughter." Miss Wells has had much experience in dealing with girls and her conclusions will be well worth hearing. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all.

Englewood Woman's Club

The regular monthly business meeting of the Englewood Woman's club will be held Monday, March 17, at 2 o'clock.

The nomination of officers for the ensuing year will be held on that day. The Music department of the Englewood Woman's club has charge of the program for Monday morning, March 17. Mr. Henry Purmont Eames speaks on "Folk Music" with illustrations on the piano. The club quartet will sing.

Oakhaven Home Woman's Auxiliary

The great interest of the ladies of the south end of the city in Oakhaven home was evidenced last Thursday when the Woman's Auxiliary of Oakhaven gave a luncheon at Pilgrim Congregational church, which partook of the nature of a donation party. The Comfort and Delicacies committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert E. Payne, had requested the guests to bring an offering for the use of the occupants of the home, which will be opened within a short time, and over 150 jars of preserved fruits, jellies, honey and other delicacies were brought in, as well as a barrel of flour, two barrels of apples, etc. The luncheon was served by the ladies of Pilgrim Congregational church.

Voice Contest at Englewood Woman's Club

The Englewood Woman's club through its Music Extension committee offers to music students of the south side two scholarships in voice: first scholarship $100 and second scholarship $50.

In each case the scholarship will be applied as tuition with the teacher under whom the winning student has been studying.

The contest is open to all students of voice from 16 to 21 years of ages who reside in that portion of the south side which extends from 55th st. to 119th st. and from the city limits on the west to the lake.

A letter of application will be required from the student, and a letter of recommendation from the teacher with whom the applicant has studied during the whole of the present school year.

Requirements

1. Aria from a standard opera or oratorio.

2. Two short songs, one classic and one modern (the latter song in English). The contest will be held in Lyon and Healy Concert hall, Jackson blvd. and Wabash ave. Preliminary contest March 25 at 9:30 a. m., final contest, March 27 at 9:30 a. m. Those wishing to compete must file an application with Mrs. F. J. Avery, 6637 Stewart ave., not later than March 22.

Changes In Commonwealth State Bank Official Staff

It will be of unusual interest to the residents of Englewood and the Tri-Parks district to learn that Mr. Ernest E. Hart, who for the past fifteen years has been associated with the First Englewood State Bank, has resigned as cashier of that institution and has been elected president of the Commonwealth State bank to succeed Mr. R. Weston Pollard, who is retiring from the banking business.

Mr. Hart, a man of fine and pleasing personality, is one of the best liked and most popular bank officials on the south side and has a host of friends. In taking the job of commander in chief of one of the cleanest and fastest growing clearing house banks, he apparently has taken a step in the right direction and is receiving the hearty congratulations of friends and fellow bankers, all of whom predict a brilliant future for him in the enterprising and progressive bank of which he is now the head.

Southwest District Boy Scout News

The plans for the financial drive as laid out by Mr. Harry Mapp, financial chairman of the Southwest district, are rapidly being completed, and with the splendid support that a number of the prominent men of the district are giving to Mr. Mapp, our prospects for "going over the top" are almost assured.

The plans for the district parade on March 29 at 3 o'clock are being completed and it is expected that there will be several thousand boys in line.

Mrs. A. H. Baker, 5651 S. Peoria st., has recently donated a cup to the boys of the Southwest district, which is to be known as the Baker Challenge cup. This cup is to be awarded at our Field day in June to the troop which secures the largest number of points in the athletic events.

Mr. F. T. Bascom, chairman of the Morgan Park community, will be in a position to give the decision in the next issue of this paper on the competitive window displays being put in by the Morgan Park troops.

Applications for Camp Kiwanis south are coming in very rapidly for week-end hikes and scoutmasters are urged to get their applications in as early as possible. If the cabin is desired it will be necessary for you to make reservations two or three weeks in advance.

Mr. Reid Bennett, district commissioner, advised this office that he has a man picked to act as Assistant deputy scout commissioner of the Beverly Hills community and we are anxiously waiting for Mr. Bennett to identify this mysterious person.

Troop 655 of the Morgan Park community won the basketball championship of that community.

The E. C. C. A. Meeting

At the Englewood Commercial and Civic association Mr. Becker, proprietor of the Becker Cleaners and Dyers, was the speaker of the day. He brought out many important points relative to Central Englewood. For instance he made it very plain that the best people on the south side in Englewood were now, as always, between Wallace st. and Wentworth ave. from north of and south of 63rd st. From his 25 years back as a school graduate in this part of Englewood Mr. Becker said this part of Englewood has always stood for the best on the south side. The reason we do not now compete with Woodlawn is that we have forgotten that we do live in the best that the south side offers.

Mr. Becker is not only familiar with this section of the south side but his business interest in Woodlawn, Hyde Park and the north shore district, has placed him in a position to compare us with these different sections and in our favor he said, "You people here are set and know what you are about—you and your families are reliable and are the best that Chicago affords—but are you overlooking 63rd st.—and its good business houses.

The next meeting will be on March 26 and president Penhallegon guaranteed the members present that they would have a surprise and a treat. The luncheon was furnished by Mr. Fender of the Fender Garage, 63rd and Harvard.

Musical and Drama North Congregational Church

The meeting of the Ninety and Nine men of North Congregational church has been moved ahead for the month of March, to St. Patrick's evening at which time the men will give a musical and dramatic program. The affair will be held at the church, 59th and La Salle sts., and the program starts at 8 p. m. There is no admission charge and a silver offering will be made. The community is invited. The O'Leary family of musicians and Misses Violet Holdt and Mildred Flafkerd of the Columbia School of Expression, dramatic readers, are featured.

The Goldstein Furniture Company Expands

The Goldstein Furniture company, 5926 S. Halsted st., have added 19,000 square feet of space to the original store. The contractors are putting on the finishing touches to the new addition and within a few days the store will be entirely completed. It is one of the finest and largest furniture stores on the south side and with the addition the local manager, Abe Goldstein, states that he has added a very complete line of furniture and rugs at prices that will meet every family. The Goldstein Furniture company is the oldest firm of its kind in Englewood. They have three other stores and the fifth will be open for business by the first of April and is located at 2542 to 2548 W. North ave.

Prominent Business Men Boost Boy Scouts

Twenty-six prominent citizens of Southtown have accepted the responsibility of captaining Boy Scout drive workers from particular organizations in preparation for and during the "zero hour" between 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening, March 29.

Teams are being organized in churches, lodges, schools, and clubs. While general organization is under way, four minute speakers have been, during the past week, appearing before various meetings, presenting the cause of the Scouts and enlisting "zero hour" workers, who will serve as a nucleus for the army of 2,500 which is expected to bring in the $15,000 in pledges and cash during the "zero hour."

Arrangements for the Scout parade, to be held the afternoon of the drive, are being made by G. H. Schultz, Southwest district executive. Mr. Schultz said he expects to have several thousands of boys in line, with bands playing.
